

RADIO'S MEMORABLE YEARS, INC.

"Chandu, the Magician" is a classic radio program. It was one of radio's earliest and most successful, as well as popular, juvenile mystery, adventure, thriller (MAT) serials.

Chandu's sister, Margaret Regent, had a teenage son and daughter, Bob and Betty. The trio accompanied Chandu and his friend, the Princess Nadji, on many thrilling adventures into the mysterious Orient.

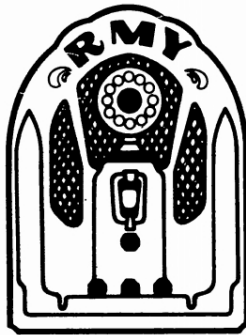

When Chandu gazed into his unusual crystal ball, space and time vanished. Terrifying secrets and satanic evils were revealed, which often helped save his life and that of his friends.

As we gaze into Chandu's crystal ball, four of radio's greatest juvenile heroes begin to take shape-Buck Rogers, Orphan Annie, the Green Hornet and Tom Mix.

Many of their original thrilling and mysterious adventures on radio have been preserved by "Radio's Memorable Years" and a sampling of these are listed within the pages of this catalog.

RADIO'S MEMORABLE YEARS, INC.

RADIO is not dead.

RADIO is vibrantly alive and celebrating its golden anniversary, but it sounds very different today than it did 25 to 50 years ago during its Golden Age.

RADIO still has the power, but not the will, to influence, inform, interest, entertain, educate, soothe and sway people as it once did. It cannot be brought back in all its old glory, for that era in our history is unique and cannot be duplicated, but at least it is not lost forever.

Fortunately for all of us, bits and pieces of that glorious period, when radio reigned supreme, have been preserved for posterity on old cylinders, discs, wires and tapes.

In the last seven years, it has taken me over 20,000 hours, and countless letters, phone calls and tape letters, plus visits to radio stations, libraries, auctions, attics, garages, basements, barns and old-time personalities and personnel to track down and preserve some of these memorable moments of old-time radio, which now comprise the vast library of "Radio's Memorable Years".

Actually my titanic struggle to preserve old-time radio began some 30 years ago. In 1936 I heard my first juvenile adventure serial, "Jack Armstrong, the All-American Boy." By the following year, I began collecting adventure serial premium giveaways like mystic rings, secret decoders, official badges and oriental tricks, and by 1939, I had already begun jotting down daily notes on the dialogue of some of my favorite adventure serials.

But it was only after listening to Carlton E. Morse's immortal "I Love A Mystery" in October of 1939 that I really became intrigued with the idea of capturing the program's complete dialogue. I devised a unique shorthand system and for the next decade faithfully and daily took down the dialogue of half a dozen adventure serials, in addition to "I Love A Mystery". Late at night I would analyze the plots, hoping to discover the writers' next moves.

In the summer of 1950, as I prepared to leave for college, I carefully packed away in a dozen large cartons more than 15,000 complete radio adventure serial scripts, over 1,000 adventure serial premium giveaways, and hundreds of notes, clippings, photos and other radio memorabilia. It was nearly 10 years later that I returned to that attic in West Reading, Pennsylvania, and discovered that everything had been inadvertently discarded. For two years I was heartbroken and for nearly three more very discouraged over my tragic loss.

On Christmas eve, 1963, my mother placed under our Christmas tree a package which helped change my life. It was an old shoe box containing letters I had written home over the years, plus an old Lone Ranger premium giveaway-a Colt .45 gun ring. That one, small object, the only vestige of my enormous and valuable radio collection, rekindled my hopes.

The result of more than 20,000 hours of often frustrating, difficult research and collecting is now history.

"Radio's Memorable Years" is now one of the finest, constantly expanding, old-time radio libraries of original programs, premium giveaways, literature and memorabilia in the world. "Radio's Memorable Years" was formed to bring you these memorable moments in sound in the finest possible fidelity. At "Radio's Memorable Years" we have a motto, which sums up our purpose in just a few words: "For years worth remembering, listen to Radio's Memorable Years ... enjoy thousands of programs in outstanding fidelity."

Lest we forget, a friendly reminder: the thousands of programs offered in this and subsequent catalogs of "Radio's Memorable Years" are intended for home consumption only and broadcast in any form is strictly prohibited.

Now, we have held you long enough. Start your tape recorder turning, relax in your favorite easy chair, close your eyes, and let your imagination take you back over the years to""Radio's Memorable Years".

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Joe Hehn". The signature is fluid and elegant, with the first name "Joe" and last name "Hehn" clearly distinguishable.

1. This catalog, which contains only a very small listing of "Radio's Memorable Years" vast library of authentic radio broadcasts, primarily from radio's golden years, is our catalog #1.

2. Fidelity rating system of „Radio's Memorable Years" programs:
  - 2.. G /GOOD . . . . . Recommended, but with reservations. Program contains one or more noticeable, major faults or defects, but is basically listenable, though how enjoyable is a matter of opinion. Often, this is the best fidelity that can be obtained from a disc poorly stored for several decades.

  - 3... VGNERY GOOD . . . . . Contains at least one minor fault or defect, which is sometimes hardly noticeable, but even at its worst does not interfere with enjoyable listening. Because many discs were stored improperly, many programs fall into this category.

  - 4... E /EXCELLENT . . . . . No minor faults or defects. True broadcast fidelity and true listening pleasure. RMY finds that very few programs deserve a rating of Excellent simply because so many of the old recordings were not preserved the proper way.

  - 2-3... GNG . . . . . A double numerical rating exists for greater accuracy.
  - 3-2. . VG/G The first numeral indicates the predominant fidelity.
  - 3-4... VG/E
  - 4-3. . ENG
